

PRODUCT SHEET

SACHA INCHI (Plukenetia volubilis L.) Oil

DESCRIPTION

- Botanical name: Plukenetia volubilis L.
- Common names: Sacha Inchi, Maní de la Selva.
- Product: Extra-Virgin Oil of Sacha Inchi. It contains a high concentration of fatty polyunsaturated acids, alpha-linolenic acid (Omega 3 - 49%) and linoleic acid (Omega 6 – 32%). Contains no additives.
- Source: Pressed Sacha Inchi seeds.

SACHA INCHI

Sacha Inchi is a hermaphrodite plant with small flowers. Its fruits are capsules 3 to 5 cm in diameter, green colored when young and brown when mature. They usually have 4 lobes – each lobe contains a seed. They are 15 to 20 mm wide and 7 to 8 mm thick. The weight of said seeds usually goes from 0.8 to 1.4 grams.

TRADITIONAL USES

Cosmetic: anti-wrinkles, products for sensitive skin, moisturizing agent, hair care products.

Medicinal: Muscle pain and rheumatism, elderly people diets.

Nutritional: Cholesterol, metabolism equilibrium, nutraceutical. Food oil in different types of dishes.

PACKAGING

Amber colored glass bottles of 200cc each. Bottles are shipped in 24 bottle cardboard boxes.

Perú Agro Partners S.A.C.

STORAGE

Bottles must be kept in a cool place and away from sunlight. Temperature must not exceed 30 degrees Celsius. Under normal storage conditions it has a life expectancy greater than 12 months.

PRICES

Please contact us for current pricing. Due to constant fluctuations in market prices it is impossible to post a constant fixed price.